

ISM DOCTORAL STUDIES IN MANAGEMENT ORGANIZED BY ISM UNIVERSITY OF MANAGEMENT AND ECONOMICS TOGETHER WITH AARHUS UNIVERSITY [DENMARK], BI NORWEGIAN BUSINESS SCHOOL, AND TARTU UNIVERSITY [ESTONIA]

POTENTIAL DOCTORAL SUPERVISORS AND RESEARCH TOPICS FOR ADMISSION TO DOCTORAL STUDIES 2023

Research Topics	Potential Supervisors
Identifying propensity for dictatorship: linguistic analysis	Prof. dr. Vita Akstinaitė
Development of self-leadership tool	Prof. dr. Vita Akstinaitė
Leadership development: leadership transition and identity of new leads	Prof. dr. Raimonda Alonderienė
Learning and unlearning resilience	Prof. dr. Raimonda Alonderienė
Human-centric approach and new technology adoption	Prof. dr. Ilona Bučiūnienė
The role of Sustainable HRM in Industry 5.0	Prof. dr. Ilona Bučiūnienė
Sustainable corporate governance and stakeholder engagement	Prof. dr. Valdonė Darškuvienė
Data-driven decision-making for sustainable governance	Prof. dr. Valdonė Darškuvienė
Age-diversity of service employees and customer reactions	Prof. dr. Bernadeta Goštautaitė
Organizational interventions for promoting employee health	Prof. dr. Bernadeta Goštautaitė
HRM, resilience, performance, and wellbeing	Prof. dr. Rūta Kazlauskaitė
HRM and value co-creation	Prof. dr. Rūta Kazlauskaitė
Negative and positive effects of silence in organizations: what leaders can do in order to improve their communication with teams	Assoc. prof. dr. Irina Liubertė
The quality of entrepreneurs' interactions with their (prospective) investors: how to make investors believe in your (bio)technological innovation, and how to fulfil the promises	Assoc. prof. dr. Irina Liubertė
Secrecy as an informal strategy of knowledge protection in collaborative R&D	Assoc. prof. dr. Irina Liubertė